VOL. 5. NO. 95 MONESSEN, PA., MONDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1906. SIX CENTS THE WEE

LARGE LOT OF DRUNKS MADE BUSY POLICE COURT

Mayor F. H. Shutterly Held Two Very Interesting Sessions Yesterday and This Norning—Some Got Salty Doses

The crop of drunks for Saturday and Sunday, was an unusually large one, and two very interesting sessions of police court were heard before Mayor F. H. Shutterly, yesterday and this morning.

One of the particularly interesting cases was that of Osborne Odell, charged with being drunk and creating a disturbance at the skating rink Saturday night. Osborne got a good skate on down town, Saturday evening, and then repaired to the rink, where he got on two more. It soon became quite clear that he was unequal to the occasion, and the thought seemed to rile Osborne considerable. He got real bad and Chief Woolsey and Officer Kepple took a hand, and Osborne was landed in the cooler. After considering the case Mayor Shutterly decided that $12.00 and costs would be about right, and warned Osborne that in future when he went to the rink, the 25 cents a pair kind were the best skates for him.

Stephen Dabos, Paul Babach, Al Stewart and John Dorcery, were arrested by officers Wheatley, Coulter and Dunkle on Highland avenue, Saturday, charged with being drunk and disorderly. Dabos was fined $12.00 and costs, Babach and Stewart $10.00 and costs, and Dorcery was discharged.

Andrew Kennedy, Andy Tepeck and John Simpson were each assessed $2.00 and costs for being drunk. They paid their fines and were allowed to depart, after promising to do better in the future.

Stephen Gero, was arrested by Officer Hamilton, Saturday night, on a charge of being drunk and exposing his person. Stephen drew a fine of $5.00 and costs for his.

Sam Crouch appeared before His Honor in behalf of a bovine of which he was the owner, and which had been found running at large by one of the cops. Crouch was permitted to take the animal home after paying a fine of $3.00 and costs.

John Leska and Sam Miknovich, were arraigned before His Honor charged with being drunk and disorderly. Leska and Miknobich, it is alleged, were when arrested, singing, yelling and otherwise acting disorderly on the streets, the result of a good big jag. They denied the charge and as the arresting officer was not present they were again locked up, and will be given a hearing this evening.

Every woman in Monessen should use our line of pure spices.

"Deserted at the Altar".

Pierce Kingsley's great American play "Deserted at the Altar" was playing in St. Louis last season, and after the deserting scene in the second act, a well dressed lady left the theatre in tears, and shortly afterwards was found outside the playhouse in an unconcious condition from taking chloroform. After she was taken to the hospital and revived by the doctors, she was asked why she had taken the poison, and she replied that the scene in "Deserted at the Altar" was so vividly like a similar scene in her own life's history that she could not even control herself, and wanted to blot out the memory of it by distroying her life. This can be verified by every newspaper in St. Louis, who devoted columns to it at the time. Hence the title is not exaggerated, as one can see from the columns of the press throughout the world where cases of desertion at the church altar happen frequently. Nor in the entire play is there an impossible line or situation. It is a story from life, told in a forceful and convincing manner with a mingling of bright comedy and powerful stage effects. Will appear at the Monessen Opera House, Friday night, October 19th.

Miona stomach tablets which Miller's Pharmacy sells under a guarantee, cure all forms of stomach ills.

They Respect the Press.

The officials in charge of police court in Connellsville have turned over a new leaf, and in the future all members of the newspaper profession will be treated as superior guests while doing duty in the presence of His Honor, the Mayor. The Connellsville Courier say:

"Clerk W. D. McGinnis took two reporters by surprise this morning in police court when he directed them to select two chairs for their use during the hearings. Heretofore the "pencil pushers" have been compelled to stand outside the rail in a position far from being comfortable. Under the new arrangement they will be seated directly behind the Burgess and Clerk, but in a position where nothing will be obscured.

Perhaps the new chairs will temper their feelings to the extent of being lenient with some of the unfortunates who find their way to the borough bastile."

Attacked by a Ferocious Dog.

John Reed, our tax collector, was attacked by a ferocious dog this morning and for a few minutes it looked like he might be chewed into sausage meat. He was crossing a bridge over a ravine on the hill district and when about half way across, a cur ran up behind him and demanded a surrender. Mr. Reed was badly frightened for the dog showed signs of madness, but realizing his perilous position, he scrambled around and got hold of an immense club with which he succeeded in holding the furious canine at bay until several men rushed to his rescue. Mr. Reed believes the dog was free from rabies, but declares it was the maddest thing he ever saw.

A Nickelodeon.

Monessen is to have a new amusement playhouse. The Beck Amusement Company of McKeesport has rented the A. Goldberg building formerly occupied by C. S. Pore Hardware Co., and will establish a nickleodeon, or in other words a five cent theatre. The building was rented through the agency of Shuster and Keed, for a term of three years and five months.

Kirsch Brothers are at present busy tearing the inside out of the building, and fitting it up for the new enterprise. Mr. Beck, manager of the Amusement Company resides in McKeesport and has established similar places of amusement in many of the valley towns and has been very successful in operating them. He expects to be ready to start in Monessen about November 1st.

SAM JONES THE NOTED EVANGELIST DEAD.

Died Suddenly of Heart Failure While on Rock Island Train Enroute to Little Rock, Arkansas.

(Special to the Independent)

Little Rock, Ark. Sept. 15.—Rev. Sam Jones, the noted evangelist, lecturer and orator, died today, while on board a Rock Island train, near Little Rock, of heart failure. Mr. Jones had been ailing for some time, but was able to travel about and attend to his duties and was only ill a few minutes before his death.

Sam Jones bore an enviable reputation as an evangelist and lecturer and during his career as a public man, has preached to more people than any other American evangelist. His sudden demise will come as a blow, not only to his family and friends, but to the public in general.

Nick Badder was Here.

Nick Badder, one of the best known traveling printers living, is now paying his annual visit to the Monongahela valley print shops. Nick has traveled from east to west, and from north to south, diagonally and every other way across this broad continent, and has done it with the use of "shanks matches." He dropped into the Independent office early this morning, pretty badly used up over a long journey, and a recent sick spell, but still displayed sufficient energy to ask for a job, or the equivalent, "a little change".

Not being able to furnish the former, the latter was very acceptable, and was received with much gratitude, and Nick was soon on his way again. He left Monessen about 10:30 and expected to be with brother Truxal of the Belle Vernon Enterprise for dinner.

NEED OF OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM.

Every month brings us nearer to the recognition of the need of speedy readjustment of the programs of elementary and secondary schools. A new civilization is upon us, with problems and ideals which could not even have been dreamed of by the makers of the traditional courses of study. In the economic field, especially, changes have taken place which amount almost to a revolution. We have seen the apprentice system disappear, and machine product takiug the place of the product of the hand. The control of machinery requires a knowlege and skill for which there was no demand in the past. The anomalous condition presenting itseli if, that economic life expects individuals to possess a training for which no provision is made in the general scheme of education. The boy leaving school at 14 or 16 finding no apprentice period offered him, and having obtained no training directly fitting him for a practical pursuit, must needs drift until by sheer strength of will and ingenuity he hews out for himself some definite lifework. At best there is a tremenduous waste of time and energy for want of specific direction. This danger, added to the fact that a large proportion of the graduates of our school lack self direction, accounts to a considarable extent for the vast number of unskilled laborers which threaten the industrial peace of the world.

Stimulation Without Irritation.

That is the watchword. That is what Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does. Cleanses and stimulates the bowels without irritation in any form. Sold by Kirks Drug Store.

Papyrus.

The papyrus used by the ancient Egyptians was made from the stems of a peculiar water reed growing in all parts of Egypt. The outside layer of the plant was removed, and beneath this there were found a number of layers of a delicate pithy membrane. These, being separated, were placed in layers. A second layer was laid at right angles to and above the first and sometimes a third over the second. Heavy pressure was then applied, and the layers were firmly cemented into a fair article of paper. No gum other than what was contained in the plant itself was used in the process. The papyrus was very much stronger than the average paper made by the modern machines. The sheets were commonly made from six to twelve inches square.

Two Monster Beetles.

The largest bug known to the old world entomologists is the gigantic Goliath beetle, which is found along the Kongo river in Africa. Goliath is upward of six inches in length from the tip of his nose to the nether end of his hard shelled body and has a pair of gauzy wings folded up under his arms, either of which is as large as a lady's face veil. But Goliath is a pygmy when compared with the elephant beetle of Venezuela, an entomological giant which weighs nearly a pound and which has a wing spread equal to that of a mallard duck. Both of these bugs are rare.

Kissing In Iceland.

When you visit a family in Iceland you must kiss each member according to his age or rank, beginning with the highest and descending to the lowest, not even excepting the servants. On taking leave the order is reversed. You first kiss the servants, then the children and lastly the master and mistress. Both at meeting and parting an affectionate kiss on the mouth without distinction of rank, age or sex is the only mode of salutation known in Iceland.

Wood of the Cross.

The people of the different countries have their various traditions concerning the wood of which the cross was made. In England the peasants say that it was of elderwood and that lightning never strikes that tree. Dean French in a note to his "Sacred Latin Poetry" declares that it was made of the wood of the aspen and that since the day of the crucifixion the leaves of that tree have never ceased to shudder.

One Exception.

"Where there's a winner there's always a loser."

"Not always."

"Well, name an instance to the contrary."

"When you're playing cards with your girl for kisses."

"Home, Sweet Home."

Probably no one would have been more surprised than Sir Henry Bishop himself could he have foreseen that a single melody in one of his numerous operas would achieve such celebrity that at the present day it is still sung by leading prima donnas at fashionable concerts, jangled on street organs and loved by a vast public that knows nothing of music, properly so called, as the purest representation of the English spirit—"Home, Sweet Home." "Clari, the Maid of Milan," the opera in which this favorite song occurred, has long been consigned to the limbo of forgotten musical works, but "Home, Sweet Home," survives with undiminished popularity and is likely to survive when many more pretentious compositions have followed "The Maid of Milan" into oblivion.—Cornell Magazine.

Kooser, Byanite. On the night of September 28 Kooser and Emery spoke to the same audience, and Kooser arraigned the Republican party in the most scathing language—the party of President Roosevelt. Emery is committed to Kooser's candidacy.

In all of these districts where present members are being opposed by Lincolnite or fusion candidates the members so opposed have been staunch supporters of Roosevelt and his policies. All of them voted for the rate bill. Bates is secretary of the Pennsylvania Republican delegation in Congress. Olmstead is one of Speaker Cannon's right-hand men, and frequently presides over the house when in committee of the whole. Acheson is one of the strongest men in the delegation. Wanger is able and faithful in the performance of his duties.

Side Show in "Shoe-String" District.

A vigorous attempt was made by the Emeryites and Democrats to knock out Representative Butler in the Chester-Delaware district, and the most annoying, contemptible and underhand methods were employed in the effort to produce such a result, but it failed.

In the "shoe-string" district, made up of Franklin, Fulton, Huntingdon, Juniata, Mifflin, Perry, Snyder and Union counties, Benjamin F. Focht has been nominated by the Republicans. The Lincolnites have not dared to indorse the Democratic candidate, William Alexander, out right, but have put up a side-show candidate in the person of Edward Hummel. There is not the slightest show for the election of Hummel, but so long as the Emery people can aid the Bryan candidate they are content.

In Luzerne county the Lincolnites have put up Coray in the hope of smashing the Republican lines and sending a Democrat to Congress.

The 27th district comprises Armstrong, Clarion, Indiana and Jefferson counties, and W. O. Smith has represented it. He is not the candidate this time, and in his place is Major Joseph G. Beale, a veteran of the civil war. Emery is committed to the Democratic candidate. Indeed, it was in this district that Emery, speaking at Punxsutawney on the night of September 22, already referred to, made his declaration that he would "sooner have a decent Democrat down there (Washington) than a stinking, rotten Republican."

And this in a district where a veteran whose name and character carry weight throughout all of the counties composing it, Major Beale, is the Republican candidate!

These are facts that no one can get away from. They show conclusively that when the Pennsylvania Democrats promised Bryan to send six or eight extra Democrats to Congress they were not talking vainly. They had had their understanding with their gubernatorial candidate, Emery, and Emery is standing gallantly by the agreement to smash the Republican party at every possible point, even to the extent of advocating Bryan-Hearst candidates for congress —Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Matter of Nose.

In spite of the important place given to the nose as an index of character, there is but little to be learned from it in estimating the causes of an innate bord between the mind and the features. Most of the correspondences which have been remarked appear to be of a radical order, but why a Roman nose first became associated with a warlike and domineering disposition or how a long and thin nose became linked with business prudence is more than I can say. If we omit the changes which take place in a nose during the lifetime of its possessor, there is scarcely a nasal peculiarity of value to the physiognomist which at the same time is cosmopolitan. No Tartar or Hottentot however warlike, could give proof of it in this way. Japan has shown that she possesses plenty of men with military aptitude, but no Wellingtonian nose can be found within her borders. Again, no Chinese nose is long and thin, yet John is not without a certain aptitude at driving bargains.—Blackwood's Magazine.

Music and the Turtle.

The Egyptians, according to the sage Apollodorus, credit their Hermes or Mercury with the invention of music under the following circumstances: The Nile, having overflowed its banks and inundated nearly all of Egypt, on its return to its banks left on its shores various dead animals and among the rest a tortoise, the flesh having dried and wasted in the sun until nothing remained in the shell but cartilages. These, being tightened by the drying heat, became sonorous. Mercury, walking along the banks of the river, happened to strike his foot against this shell, was so pleased with the sound produced that the idea of the lyre suggested itself, and he constructed a lyre of the shell of a large tortoise, which he strung with the sinews of dead animals. Dryden wrote:

Less than a god they thought there could not dwell
Within the hollow of that shell
That spoke so sweetly.

Read an old man's tribute.

Sidney Justus, fruit dealer, of Mentor, Ohio, says: "I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills of a severe case of kidney trouble of eight or ten years' standing. I suffered the most severe backache and other pains in the region of the kidneys. These were especially severe when stooping to lift anything, and often I could hardly straighten my back. The aching was bad in the daytime, but just as bad at night, and I was always lame in the morning. I was bothered with rheumatic pains and dropsical swelling of the feet. The urinary passages were painful, and the secretions were discolored and so free that often I had to rise at night. I felt tired all day. Half a box served to relieve me, and three boxes effected a permanent cure."

Letter to C. F. Eggers,

Dear Sir: No man is in a position to influence men with regard to their property more than you in that little room where they tell you their troubles. Pity, if you don't know how to keep a house dry and sound, any sort of structure, house store factory warehouse shop barn fence—any sort of fence, except rail; with paint.

What paint? The paint that takes least gallons; for paint costs money, and putting it on costs twice as much as the paint.

That is short; but that's all; it includes the rest. One paint wears long, another wears short; but the one that wears long is the least-gallons paint; least-gallons means pure and strong, and most-gallon means adulterated and weak, besides small gallons.

Paint is one of the biggest interests in the United States; not the business of making it; no, the business of paint, taking care of property. Paint is worth a deal more than it costs, and the best costs least: Devoe.

Women and Mirrors.

"We carry lots of women clear to the top floor or at least several floors up and then they take the next elevator down without going three steps away from the elevator," declared the operator of one of the "lifts" in a big office building. "No, it isn't because they like to ride in the elevators particularly. Why do they do it? To get the use of the mirrors, of course. See those mirrors on either side of the elevator? That's what attracts them. A bit of wind will strike them as they turn the corner by a big building and then they imagine that their hair is badly disarranged and make for the nearest mirror, which is in the elevator."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Chinese Duel.

A Chinaman was killed recently in Bangkok in a duel with another of his race. The Chinese method of dueling is interesting, but does not seem deadly. These two Bangkok Chinamen fought with the two forefingers of each hand, stabbing each other with these in the region of the spleen and at the same level on the other side of the body. The men who go in for this kind of contest practice every morning, stabbing bags of rice or paddy with these fingers till they can use them like a piece of iron.

HOW TO SAVE $100.

Buy your pianos at Frederick's. You will save $100 on the purchase of a piano, the same instrument that will cost you $100 more if you buy from another dealer Why? W. F. Frederick operates over sixty stores and agencies. The largest piano concern between New York and Chicago. Buys the annual output of many instruments he is selling, and retails to the people at factory prices We do not deal in cheap pianos. We are asking you the same price for a good piano, as you will pay for a worthless one, and think you are getting a bargain. Where is the guarantee? We guarantee all our instruments to be first-class, and stand by every word we say.

"Think a minute." Come to our store and we will help you make the selection of a piano that will be an ornament in your home. We will make the price satisfactory. Your old instrument taken in exchange.

W. F. FREDERICK, 411 DONNER AVE.
